Health Surveillance

Go home healthy and achieve legal compliance with our health surveillance
service.

Health Surveillance

After assessing your site, we will advise you on what measures need to be improved or implemented to help keep you and your employees safe.

Not sure what health surveillance your business needs to stay legal? Contact us for advice on how to stay safe and compliant.

Safety Critical Medicals

Most large construction sites now require workers entering the sites to demonstrate that they are medically fit and safe to work there. If you have employees that are about to go onsite where a Safety critical medical is a requirement, please contact us for further information and how to book.

Statutory Medicals

You may have employees who are at risk of exposure to dangerous substances such as ionising radiation, lead and asbestos. All of our statutory medicals are carried out by HSE approved doctors, meaning you can be safe and confident knowing that you are legally compliant.
